Brentwood Public Library to partner with New York State Courts!

Brentwood, N.Y. (December 21, 2022) Brentwood Public Library is a Public Library Access Hub for New York State courts. Public Library Access Hubs are places within communities where the public can access New York State courts remotely. Using the library's computers, the public can have direct, live access to Family Court Clerks from 11am-4pm, Monday through Friday.

The public can ask questions about Family Court forms and procedures, obtain court forms (for example, custody, child support, or order of protection forms), fill them out and file them with the Suffolk County Family Court Clerk's Office directly from the library. Patrons can also access electronically-filed New York State Supreme Court records and find out about future court appearances in the District, Family and Supreme Courts.
